Message FROM THE CHAIR

The last decade has been a period of extreme change and growth for both the Commission and the horse racing industry in Ontario. The industry has met these challenges with enthusiasm and commitment while the Commission's role during this time has been to ensure that the industry operates within a well regulated and structured environment. The Commission accomplishes this by setting a framework for the industry that establishes the boundaries of acceptable behaviour, encouraging and promoting standards within the industry, and through its role as an adjudicator, enforcing the rules that have been established with a full appreciation for the sometimes very difficult circumstances participants can find themselves in. It is this environment that has given the government the confidence to invest in the horse racing industry in Ontario.

For the Ontario Racing Commission, the 2002/03 fiscal year began on a very different note than it ended. While we started the year off by focussing on improving the initiatives and programs the Commission had implemented over the last several years, we realized very quickly that the substantial growth enjoyed by the horse racing industry over the last several years did not come without its problems and challenges. Since December 2000 when the Commission's corporate structure and funding formula were changed, we have been in a position to meet industry demands for better services and increase our regulatory presence within the industry. The additional resources provided us with a more comprehensive view of the issues and challenges facing the horse racing industry.

In response to these issues, the Commission began a process to review its long-term goals which culminated in the development of a five year Strategic Plan. The Plan, developed in consultation with the horse racing industry, emphasizes policies and programs that enhance integrity within the industry including more rigorous enforcement activities and increased funding to support these initiatives. In the Spring of 2003, the industry agreed to provide funding for the Commission to implement the new strategic direction. The Commission will now be able to focus its activities on providing better regulation of the industry in the areas of stronger enforcement, information technology infrastructure and staff training programs.

At the time of this writing, I am no longer serving as the Chair of the Ontario Racing Commission and have been offered and accepted the position of Chair of the Ontario Lottery and Gaming Corporation. While I look forward to the new challenges ahead, it is with satisfaction that I look back on my nine years at the Commission.

It is with sadness that I leave the many friends and colleagues at the Commission. The industry is well served by this dedicated and hardworking group of individuals. Adequate funding has been secured to ensure the long-term viability of the Commission and the new Chair, Lynda Tanaka comes to the position with experience, energy and enthusiasm. I am confident that the Commission is well positioned to face the challenges in regulating this exciting and vibrant industry.

Message FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

During this past year, staff at the Ontario Racing Commission continued to focus their energies on strengthening the initiatives and programs we have been able to implement since the Commission changed its corporate structure and became self-financing in December 2000. Proactive initiatives coupled with an increased presence in the industry continue to be our key strategies for regulating the horse racing industry in Ontario.

To more effectively manage the growth experienced in the horse racing industry, we focussed on making improvements in three key areas during fiscal 2002/03:

- information technology enhancements,
- increased investigations and enforcement capacity, and
- licensee regulation, safety and accountability.

Field offices were connected electronically; an automated database for Judges' field reports was created and significant strides were made in the development of a new Thoroughbred Licensing and Veterinarian system. Other ventures such as licensing awareness programs and improvements to our human drug and breathalyzer testing programs increased the ORC's presence in the industry and enhanced safety.

As part of our commitment to increase accountability in the industry, we introduced amendments to the Rules of Racing, which introduced fundamental business standards between licensees which required, among other things, that proper records were being kept. In addition, we introduced a benchmark and performance measurement program to monitor the impact of slot machines on live racing.

Our new mission statement reflects our responsibility for the welfare of the horse and in this capacity, new rules were implemented. New claiming rules in Standardbred racing were put in place to reduce the turnover of horses. A new death registry program was established, requiring owners, trainers and veterinarian to inform the Commission of the death of any racehorse within 60 days of having worked, qualified or entered to race. Post mortems are required where the death takes place within 14 days and it is hoped the new information collected from this process will lead to new research into the causes of deaths in racehorses.

While many improvements have been made, the growth experienced within the racing industry has made it necessary to accelerate the pace of change. Through consultation with the industry, the Commission developed a five-year strategic plan for the organization, which outlines strategies to deal with emerging issues. Central to the plan is an emphasis on information technology initiatives as well as an aggressive staff training program.

The Commission will continue in its efforts to provide the Ontario horse racing industry with a well regulated business environment that focuses on efficient and effective services while continuing to work to protect the best interests of the industry and the general public as a whole.

AT A GLANCE

Vision and Mission

The Ontario Racing Commission, in consultation with the horse racing industry, developed a new strategic direction which identified long-term goals and priorities for the Commission. As part of this process, we revised our vision and mission statements to better reflect our mandate and our focus on horse protection as one of our key commitments.

Mandate

The Ontario Racing Commission acts in the public interest to govern, direct, control and regulate the horse racing industry in Ontario and to ensure public confidence in the honesty and integrity of the industry in Ontario. The role and authorities of the Commission are established by the Racing Commission Act, 2000, (Statutes of Ontario 2000, c.20) and its regulations.

The Commission's prime goal is to maintain the integrity of the sport through the wide regulatory powers available under the Racing Commission Act, 2000. Some of these powers include the authority to make and enforce rules, licence participants in the industry such as jockeys, trainers, owners and racetracks and hold hearings related to these matters.

To achieve this goal, the Commission assumes responsibility for minimizing risks to the public interest and strives to maintain public confidence in the integrity of the horse racing industry. These measures are essential for the industry to reach its full economic potential in Ontario and through exports into other racing jurisdictions.

The Commission also plays an active role in assessing and monitoring the impact of slot machines on live horse racing and in developing business standards for the racing industry.

Core Business Functions

The Commission continues to focus its activities and priorities on its legislated and regulatory responsibilities. The ORC's core business functions are:

1. Officiate at all races

The Commission provides three officials (judges or stewards) to supervise races conducted at Ontario's 18 licenced racetracks. These officials are responsible for the enforcement of the Rules of Racing. Officials conduct investigations into alleged rule violations, fine/suspend licencees for violations and conduct hearings on regulatory matters as required.

2. Compliance

This function, performed by investigators and/or compliance officers, includes:

- Management of the human drug-testing and breathalyzer program;
- Searches for prohibited items (drugs/syringes); and
- Enforcement of security standards at racetracks.

3. Investigations

The Commission employs civilian investigators and seconds police officers from the Illegal Gaming Section of the Criminal Investigation Bureau of the Ontario Provincial Police. Key functions of the Commission's Investigative Unit include:

- Investigations of the more serious racing violations such as race fixing, horse abuse and hidden ownerships;
- Due diligence investigations on licence applicants or licences;
- Liaison between the Commission, the police community and other civilian regulatory bodies in and out of Ontario;
- Enforcing Judges'/Stewards' and Commission orders and rulings; and
- Supporting the Ontario Racing Commission's hearing process.

ORC Vision Statement

As regulators, we establish and enforce fair rules to attain the highest possible standards of honesty and integrity among racing industry participants.

4. Licensing

The Ontario Racing Commission issues over 28,000 licences to individuals and businesses involved in the horse racing industry. A large part of the licensing function is performed at each track facility and Licensing Agents are available during live racing for more effective client service. The ORC's Investigative Unit also conducts due diligence investigations on all new licence applicants as part of the licensing process including new racetrack owners, teletheatre locations and individuals involved in the industry (i.e. grooms, trainers, racing officials, etc.)

5. Adjudication

The Commission hears appeals of rulings made by Judges and Stewards under the Rules of Racing and of the Director under the Rules and the Racing Commission Act, 2002. Appeals on minor matters may also be heard by an Industry Appeal Board which is more accessible to licencees, less formal and less costly.

6. Regulation of Racetracks

In exercising its responsibility to regulate the industry in the public interest, the Commission licences racetracks through an extensive due diligence investigation process. The Commission also reviews racetrack business plans, backstretch improvement plans and health and safety improvements as part of this process and holds public hearings on proposed new facilities and/or relocations of existing facilities.

7. Public Hearings

The Commission conducts public hearings as a means of dealing with administrative issues or as a means of obtaining public input into programs or policies affecting the industry. For example, the approval of teletheatre locations falls under this process. In addition, the Commission has sole jurisdiction and discretion in granting race dates in the province and considers applications in a public hearing in order to consider the views of other tracks, horsepeople and members of the public. The Commission also reviews business plans put forward by the individual racetracks prior to approving race dates.

ORC Mission Statement

To regulate all facets of the industry in a manner that:

- Promotes high standards of integrity, honesty, business practices and accountability;
- Protects and enhances the broader public interest;
- Protects the health and enhances the safety of the horse;
- Encourages balanced growth and economic development of the industry.

Corporate Structure

The proclamation of the Racing Commission Act, 2000 achieved two key objectives, which were:

1. to strengthen and modernize the ORC's regulatory framework, and
2. to establish the ORC as a self-financing body.

The new Act also clearly distinguishes the roles and responsibilities of the Administration (headed by the Executive Director of the Commission) from those of the Governing Board. The Board has overall corporate governance responsibilities as well as adjudicative duties while the Administration has enforcement and administrative responsibilities.

Governing Board

The Ontario Racing Commission is governed by a Board of Directors that consists of not fewer than three and not more than seven members appointed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council. Members may hold office for a term of not more than three years but may be reappointed. A majority of the members of the Commission constitutes a quorum for a meeting of the Commission.

The Governing Board is responsible for:

- carrying out its responsibilities, within the limits of its jurisdiction, responsibly, fairly and in a manner consistent with relevant law and the public interest;
- informing and advising the Minister, through its Chair, of matters of an urgent, critical or relevant nature that are likely to require action by the Commission or Minister to ensure the administration of the Act is carried out properly;
- providing high quality service to the public in performing its responsibilities;
- establishing guidelines governing the exercise of any of the powers and duties under the Act;
- submitting an annual report to the Minister on the activities and affairs of the Commission;
- recommending, for the Minister's consideration, matters that require statutory or regulatory amendment;

- constituting, at the direction of the Chair, a panel to conduct any hearing required under legislation administered by the Commission;
- releasing expeditious, high quality decisions after the panel's hearing;
- establishing fees or other charges and providing for refunds for the purposes of the Act, the Regulations and the Rules of Racing;
- ensuring that the assets of the Commission and any public funds are used with probity;
- hiring the Executive Director for the Commission;
- conducting the affairs of the Commission; and
- approving operational and financial budgets and policies to govern its activities.

Administration

Headed by the Executive Director and CEO, the Administration is responsible for enforcement and administrative functions in carrying out the mandate of the Commission.

Executive Director

The Executive Director is responsible for:

- managing the day-to-day operations of the organization in accordance with accepted business and financial practices;
- developing and applying policies so that Commission funds are used with integrity and honesty;
- establishing and applying a financial management framework to support decision-making and preparing financial reports for approval by the governing board;
- supporting the Chair and the governing board in meeting their responsibilities;
- carrying out the policies and procedures as approved by the Chair and the governing board;
- preparing an annual report for the Commission, as directed by the governing board;
- preparing a business plan for the organization, as directed by the governing board; and
- establishing and maintaining, for approval by the board, a performance review system for staff.

The Executive Director, is also the Director appointed under the Act and has express legislative authority to exercise certain powers. Specifically, he/she is empowered to license and conduct investigations of persons seeking to be racetrack owners and horse people (drivers, jockeys, grooms, owners, trainers, etc.) and to register colours, assumed names, partnerships and contracts relating to horse racing. He/she may appoint one or more Deputy Directors and may delegate powers to them subject to any conditions set out in the delegation. He/she reports to the Governing Board of the ORC.

Director of Racing

The Director of Racing is responsible for the enforcement of the Rules of Racing for all breeds. This position combines expertise in horse racing and regulation. The Director is responsible for all field staff including Judges, Stewards, licensing agents and Veterinarians. Most of the assignments to the Investigations Unit are generated through this position.

Director of Finance and Administration

This position acts as the Chief Financial Officer for the Commission and as secretary to the board. The Act establishes the Commission as a self-financing agency and the Director is responsible for ensuring that the Commission's revenues collected from fees, fines and levies are sufficient to cover its operating expenditures. The accounts of the Commission are audited annually by the Provincial Auditor.

Investigative Unit

The Investigative Unit of the ORC is comprised of Ontario Provincial Police Officers as well as civilian investigators. The unit is headed by a Detective Staff Sergeant seconded from the OPP Illegal Gambling Unit. The ORC has had a working agreement with the OPP to provide it with investigative services since 1976.

Operational PERFORMANCE

Key Achievements

2002/03

In fiscal year 2002/03 the Commission focused its energies on strengthening the initiatives and programs it had implemented over the last several years. This included monitoring, on an ongoing basis, the changes to its corporate structure and practices which were required as a result of the change to self-financing status. Proactive industry regulation coupled with an increased visibility and presence in the industry were key goals and ensured that the ORC fulfilled its responsibilities in regulating the horse racing industry.

1. Corporate Administration

The Commission began a review of its licensing process including a review of the application forms and process for individuals and corporations to ensure all required information for due diligence investigations was being provided.

The Commission also remains committed to providing timely and relevant training opportunities for its staff to ensure that they have the necessary skills to meet the Commission's regulatory objectives. Training initiatives have been implemented in a number of key areas. For example ongoing race review training seminars are being provided for ORC Field Staff and individual Information Technology training is being provided on a one to one basis.

2. Information Technology

The Commission has recruited a technical support specialist who provides information technology expertise to the Commission. With the recruitment of this individual, the Commission has implemented the following information technology initiatives:

- Connected field offices electronically through the acquisition of computer equipment and installation of e-mail and other software;
- Developed an automated database for Judges' and Stewards' field reports; and
- Began development of a new Thoroughbred Licensing and Veterinarian system.

3. Proactive Regulatory Initiatives

The Commission continued to provide timely communications on its activities and regulatory matters to the industry and general public by distributing two issues of the Commission's newsletter, Integrity Matters, including a special issue dedicated to the protection of the horse.

The Investigative Unit, in conjunction with other ORC Staff held a licensing awareness program at all racetracks across the province. Over 8,200 licences were checked during this initiative. The program increased the ORC's presence and profile in the industry and ensured that tracks were meeting required security standards with respect to restricting access to secure areas of the race-track.

Through amendments to the Rules of Racing, the ORC implemented business standards for licensees to ensure that contractual agreements between licensees were in place and proper records were being kept. The Commission also introduced the requirement for racetracks to address health and safety issues in the backstretch by developing backstretch improvement and fire safety plans as part of their race date application process.

The Commission continued to work with the Official Veterinarians Committee to review the relationship between the ORC and Veterinarians who perform official functions at Standardbred racetracks. The types of issues discussed included:

- Clarifying the services and functions provided by Official Veterinarians;
- Establishing and enforcing standards on how veterinary work is performed;
- Standardizing working conditions; and
- Establishing training and continuous education standards.

4. Compliance

In order to ensure compliance with the Rules of Racing and public safety in horse racing, the ORC's Investigative Unit operated a random testing program at all racetracks. More than 5,000 tests were conducted through this program. Each racetrack was visited on at least one occasion and ORC staff conducted breathalyzer tests, human drug tests and a search of the barn and/or paddock areas.

5. Investigations and Enforcement

The 2002 Agreement for police services between the ORC and the OPP has provided a framework to allow for Police checks to be conducted on all ORC licensees. As part of the Investigative Unit's function in monitoring ORC licensees, a four-year rotational Police process for all existing ORC licensees was implemented. The first phase of this process, which will cover approximately 25% of ORC licensees, will be completed in 2002/2003. To date, 9,600 checks have been conducted.

In order to allow individuals to provide anonymous tips to investigators on corrupt practices within the racing industry, a TIP hotline was established. The ORC received tips on a number of issues including horse abuse, hidden ownerships and other potential regulatory infractions. Over 50 investigations were initiated as a result of information received from the TIP hotline.

6. Stakeholder and Industry Initiatives

As part of the slot machine at racetracks program and the Ontario Racing Commission's commitment to increasing accountability, we introduced a benchmarking and performance measurement program to monitor the impact of slots on live racing. The information derived from this initiative has:

- Improved accountability;
- Provided a meaningful basis upon which to measure the success of the slot machine initiative; and
- Provided racetracks with information crucial to the development of their yearly business plans.

A review of the benchmarking and performance statistics was provided as part of the 2003 race date application process.

Legal

The implementation of the Racing Commission Act, 2000 both reinforced the traditional role of legal services and clarified to whom and when those services are provided. Lawyers for the Commission provide, in general, four types of services:

- Legal advisory services to staff and the Administration on policy issues or on specific factual matters.
- Litigation services, where the lawyers act on behalf of the Administration before a panel of the Commission at hearings under the Racing Commission Act, 2000, the Rules of Standardbred Racing or the Rules of Thoroughbred Racing.
- Litigation services on behalf of the Commission if there is an application for judicial review of a decision of the panel, and
- Legal support services to the Administration and to the Ontario Racing Commission.

These legal services are provided by the Commission's lawyers and by outside legal counsel retained for specific purposes. The use of outside legal counsel permits the Administration to manage unusual circumstances, to meet high demands in a cost effective manner, and to draw on expertise where required.

Commission Hearings

During the fiscal year, 42 hearings were held over 59 dates. Eight of the hearings were for thoroughbred matters, thirty for standardbred matters and four for other matters, such as race date applications. The Administration is usually represented by a lawyer at these hearings.

Ontario Racing Industry Board of Appeal

Hearings are also held before the Ontario Racing Industry Board of Appeal where the fine is less than $500 or a suspension is less than 30 days. The Board sits in two divisions — Thoroughbred and Standardbred.

The Thoroughbred Division sat for 8 days and held 26 hearings (35 requests for hearings were made).

The Standardbred Division sat for 15 days and held 62 hearings (80 requests for hearings were made).

Requests for hearings were often abandoned, and as a result, the number of hearings were less than the number of requests. The Supervisors for Thoroughbred Racing and for Standardbred Racing act on behalf of the Administration before the Board of Appeal.

Notices of Proposed Order and Notices of Immediate Suspension

Thirty notices were issued under the Racing Commission Act, 2000. Notices of Proposed Orders and Orders of Immediate Suspension were introduced under the Racing Commission Act, 2000. Similar statutory provisions are in place for other regulatory agencies and administrative authorities that report to the Ministry of Consumer and Business Services.

Notices of Proposed Orders are issued by the Director where he or she proposes to refuse to issue a licence, to suspend a licence or to revoke a licence. The applicant for a licence or the licensee may, within 15 days of receipt of the notice of proposed order, request a hearing before a panel of the Commission. If the applicant or licensee does not do so, the Director may issue the order. If the applicant or licensee does request a hearing, the hearing is scheduled. The panel may confirm or set aside the order or direct the Director to take the action that the panel considers the Director ought to take to give effect to the purposes of the Act.

Racing

The Racing Division is responsible for the field operations of the Ontario Racing Commission and oversees the day to day supervision of live racing in the province. Key functions of this division are officiating at all races and applying the policies and rules promulgated by the Commission.

Under the supervision of the Director of Racing, Standardbred Judges and Thoroughbred Stewards oversee live races and issue fines and suspensions for violations of the Rules of Racing. Licensing agents maintain ORC offices at each of the racetracks and are in attendance on live race dates to facilitate licensing of racing participants. Where necessary the Judges and/or Stewards review applications, evaluate eligibility, oversee all racing officials, and generally handle any inquiries from licensees or the general public as it relates to the conduct of racing.

In addition, each racetrack has an Official Veterinarian in attendance to supervise live racing. Official Veterinarians play an important role in assisting the Commission to carry out its regulatory mandate. As the advocate for the horse, the Official Veterinarian's primary responsibility is to ensure that the horse is healthy and fit to race. These responsibilities are detailed in the Rules of Racing. As a Racing Official, Official Veterinarians also act as advisors to the Commission on matters related to equine health and are present at all tracks during live racing.

The Division also coordinates and oversees the Standardbred and Thoroughbred Industry Appeal Boards. The boards, which are comprised of industry representatives, hear appeals to rulings issued by the Judges and Stewards for fines of less than $500 and/or suspensions of less than 30 days. Members of the Industry Appeal Boards are appointed by the Ontario Racing Commission, upon recommendations from industry associations.

Investigative UNIT

The Investigative Unit of the Ontario Racing Commission assists the ORC in fulfilling its mandate to regulate horse racing in the public interest and ensure public confidence in the honesty and integrity of the industry in Ontario. The Investigative Unit falls under the umbrella of the Ontario Provincial Police Illegal Gambling Unit and is comprised of civilian investigators and police officers seconded from the OPP. The Director of the Unit is a Detective Staff Sergeant seconded from the OPP.

The Unit's overall focus is to enhance compliance with the regulatory framework governing horse racing through rigorous enforcement of the rules. While enforcement is key, these activities will be tempered by educational and outreach initiatives.

The objectives of the unit are to:

- enforce compliance with ORC rules and rulings;
- ensure that all facets of the industry operate with honesty and integrity;
- minimize criminal activity in the industry;
- curtail drug use (both human and equine);
- secure paddock and backstretch areas;
- minimize corrupt practices in the industry; and to
- establish Ontario as a horse racing industry leader in the area of regulation.

The Investigative Unit performs the following functions:

- conducts due diligence investigations on license applicants to ensure that only those individuals who will act with honesty and integrity can participate in the industry;
- conducts Human Drug Testing to enhance safety in horse racing;
- searches for prohibited items to minimize and discourage the use of illicit or prohibited substances;
- enforces Security Standards and other Rules of Racing;

- conducts investigations of serious racing violations including, shadow training and hidden ownerships;
- investigates illegal gambling activities related to the horse racing industry such as bookmaking and money laundering;
- liaises with the police community and other civilian regulatory bodies to share information and conduct joint investigations where appropriate;
- serves summonses to support judicial processes related to ORC regulatory activities; and
- conducts investigations and ensures compliance with the new Horse Death Registry.

2002/2003 Accomplishments

- Under the name of PROJECT ID, the Investigative Unit conducted another licensing blitz at all racetracks in Ontario. Over 8,200 licences were checked during this initiative. The program increased the ORC's presence and profile in the industry and ensured the tracks were meeting required security standards with respect to restricting access to secure areas of the racetrack.
- Conducted random testing program at all racetracks. More than 5,000 tests were conducted through this program, including breathalyzer tests, human drug tests and searches of barns/paddock areas and vehicles.
- Through the due diligence process a four year rotational CPIC process has been established to conduct CPIC checks on all ORC licencees. To date 9,600 CPIC checks have been conducted.
- Establishment of an ORC Hotline to provide anonymous tips to the Investigative Unit, including horse abuse, hidden ownerships and other potential regulatory infractions.
- Established an investigative protocol for the new Horse Death Registry.
- Conducted random checks of racetrack backstretch security measures.
- Conducted seminars for racetrack security personnel.

Financial PERFORMANCE

Management DISCUSSION

The fiscal year of 2002–03 marks the second full operational period since the Ontario Racing Commission was established as an independent agency of the Crown under the Racing Commission Act, 2000.

During the year the Commission's Information Technology Strategic Plan was initiated. Server infrastructure has been set up and web based applications are being developed for the Thoroughbred licensing and veterinarian services. New computer equipment has been issued to connect all field offices with Head Office. The Investigative Unit has grown to meet expanding operational needs.

Change in Basis of Accounting

Effective April 1, 2002, the Commission adopted Canadian generally accepted accounting principles to prepare its financial statements. This requires accounting for revenues and expenditures on the accrual basis and the capitalization of assets when acquired are amortized over their estimated useful lives. A modified cash basis was used previously, which allowed for an extra 30 days for payment of goods and services, pertaining to the fiscal year just ending and the expensing of capital assets in the year of acquisition. This change in the basis of accounting for the Commission was adopted on a retroactive basis, resulting in some changes to the March 31, 2002 financial statements.

The Provincial Auditor conducted their audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and expressed their opinion that the statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Commission as at March 31, 2003.

Revenue

During this fiscal period, the Commission received funds for its operational expenditures from three main sources:

- a track levy calculated as a percentage of each racing association's total wagering for the previous calendar year.

- license fees collected from individuals such as owners, trainers, drivers, jockeys, etc.
- fines imposed for violations for the Rules of Racing.

For the fiscal year ended March 31, 2003, the Commission's total revenue was $7.5 million, and included track levy of $6.2 million, fees of $0.8 million and fines of $0.5 million.

Expenditure

The Board approved total 2002-03 expenditures of $7.4 million for the operation of the Commission, and based on this approval, the track levy (83% of revenue) is calculated.

Salaries and Benefits account for approximately 63% of total expenses. This is 3% less than the previous year due to the fact that expenses in 2002–03 for the Investigative Unit are included in Services as stated in note (8) of the financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2003.

Reserve

In 2001-02 the Ministry of Consumer and Business Services approved the establishment of a Reserve account of approximately 25% of its annual operating budget. This was deemed as prudent since a significant portion of the Commission's revenue base relies on total wagering at Ontario racing venues that could fluctuate.

Actual Reserve Fund

At the end of fiscal 2001–02 the total reserve fund was $500,000 and the plan was to increase this fund by a portion of projected surplus from fiscal 2002–03. However, due to funding pressures of new initiatives, the Board approved that any surplus from fiscal 2002–03 would be used to help meet expenses for the fiscal 2003–2004.

Financial STATEMENTS

Auditor's Report

To the Members of the Ontario Racing Commission
and to the Minister of Consumer and Business Services

I have audited the balance sheet of the Ontario Racing Commission as at March 31, 2003 and the statements of operations and accumulated surplus and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Commission's management. My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audit.

I conducted my audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that I plan and perform an audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation.

In my opinion, these financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Commission as at March 31, 2003 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

Notes to Financial Statements

MARCH 31, 2003

1. Objects of the Commission

Amendments to the Racing Commission Act were passed on November 2, 2000. Effective December 15, 2000, the Racing Commission Act, 2000 continued the Ontario Racing Commission (the "Commission") as an independent self-financing regulatory agency of the Crown. The Commission is responsible to govern, direct, control and regulate horse racing in the Province.

2. Significant Accounting Policies

These financial statements have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles. The significant accounting policies used to prepare these statements are summarized below.

(a) Capital Assets

Capital assets are recorded at cost less accumulated amortization. Amortization is calculated on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful life of the asset, beginning in the year following acquisition, as follows:

Office furniture and equipment	5 years
Computer equipment and software	3 years

(b) Revenue Recognition

Track levy is recognized as income in the year it pertains to.

Other licence and registration fees are recognized as income when the licences are issued.

Revenue from fines and penalties, less a provision for uncollectible amount, is recorded when such fines and penalties are imposed.

(c) Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles requires that management make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities as at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses for the period. Actual amounts could differ from these estimates.

3. Track Levy

The track levy is calculated as a percentage of total wagering at each racing association for the previous year. The track levy is established such that, the total sum of the track levy, added to other fees collected by the Commission, will be sufficient to cover all costs associated with the operation of the Commission.

4. Employee Benefits

(a) Pension Benefits

The Commission provides pension benefits for all its permanent employees through participation in the Public Service Pension Fund (PSPF) which is a multi-employer defined benefit pension plan established by the Province of Ontario. The plan is accounted for as a defined contribution plan as the Commission has insufficient information to apply defined benefit plan accounting to the pension plan. The Commission's contributions related to the PSPF for the year were $171,060 (2002 — $97,333) and are included in employee benefits.

(b) Non-pension Benefits

Cost of post-retirement non-pension employee benefits are paid by the Management Board Secretariat and are not included in the Statement of Operations and Accumulated Surplus.

(c) Accrued Benefit Obligation

The accrued benefit obligation includes an accrual for employee severance payments. In fiscal 2003, the cost of this employee future benefit was $52,447 (2002 — $39,720) and is included in Employee Benefits.

5. Members' Remuneration

Total remuneration of the Chair and members of the Commission for the year was $120,895 (2002 — $138,731).

6. Capital Assets

	2003 ($ 000)		2002 ($ 000)
	Cost	Accumulated Amortization	Net Book Value
Computer equipment and software	232	1	231
Office furniture and equipment	63	4	59
	295	5	290

7. Commitments

The Commission is committed under operating leases on head office premises and vehicles with future minimum rental payments due as follows:

	($ 000)
2004	353
2005	302
2006	266
2007	56
2008	36
Thereafter	2
	1,015

8. Transactions With the Province of Ontario

Commencing in fiscal 2003, the Commission started paying the Ontario Provincial Police for investigative and related services, which totaled $587,405. (2002 — $0).

9. Reserve

Subsection 13(l) of the Racing Commission Act, 2000 allows the Commission to retain its surplus funds unless, under subsection 13(2), it is ordered by the Minister of Consumer and Business Services to pay into the Consolidated Revenue Fund of the Province of Ontario the portion of its surplus funds as determined by the Minister. In fiscal 2002, the Commission obtained approval from the Ministry of Consumer and Business Services to establish a Reserve account not to exceed 25% of the Commission's annual operating budget. These funds will be used as an operating contingency against unanticipated revenue shortfalls.

10. Change in Basis of Accounting

Effective April 1, 2002, the Commission adopted Canadian generally accepted accounting principles to prepare its financial statements. This requires accounting for revenues and expenses on the accrual basis and the capitalization of assets when acquired and which are amortized to income over their estimated useful lives. Previously, the modified cash basis was used, whereby revenues and expenditures were accounted for on the cash basis which was modified to allow for an additional 30 days to pay for goods and services pertaining to the fiscal year just ended, and capital assets were expensed in the year of acquisition. This change in the basis of accounting has been adopted on a retrospective basis resulting in the following changes to the March 31, 2002 financial statements.

	2002 ($ 000)
	As Previously Stated	Increase (Decrease)	As Restated
Current assets	770	518	1,288
